

Things we could say to each other
about books and
reading!

Well, that's reading too isn't it? It doesn't have to be a book! Of course, you can bring your comic or magazine in to show me!

I didn't like it at all either. Why didn't you like it?

I loved it because it made me feel... How did it make you feel?

Sometimes if I don't fancy it, I don't read either. What else do you like doing?

I think you might
enjoy this one
next...

Over the holidays I often re-read books!

You can re-read
anything you like,
whenever you like!

OK, so imagine you have one question you're allowed to ask the poet. What would it be? What about a question for the illustrator?

You should go and chat to... I know they like the same books
as you too!

Why don't you see if you can pop down to the library at the weekend? They will be able to help you find something you might like. If you can't, I'll try and help!

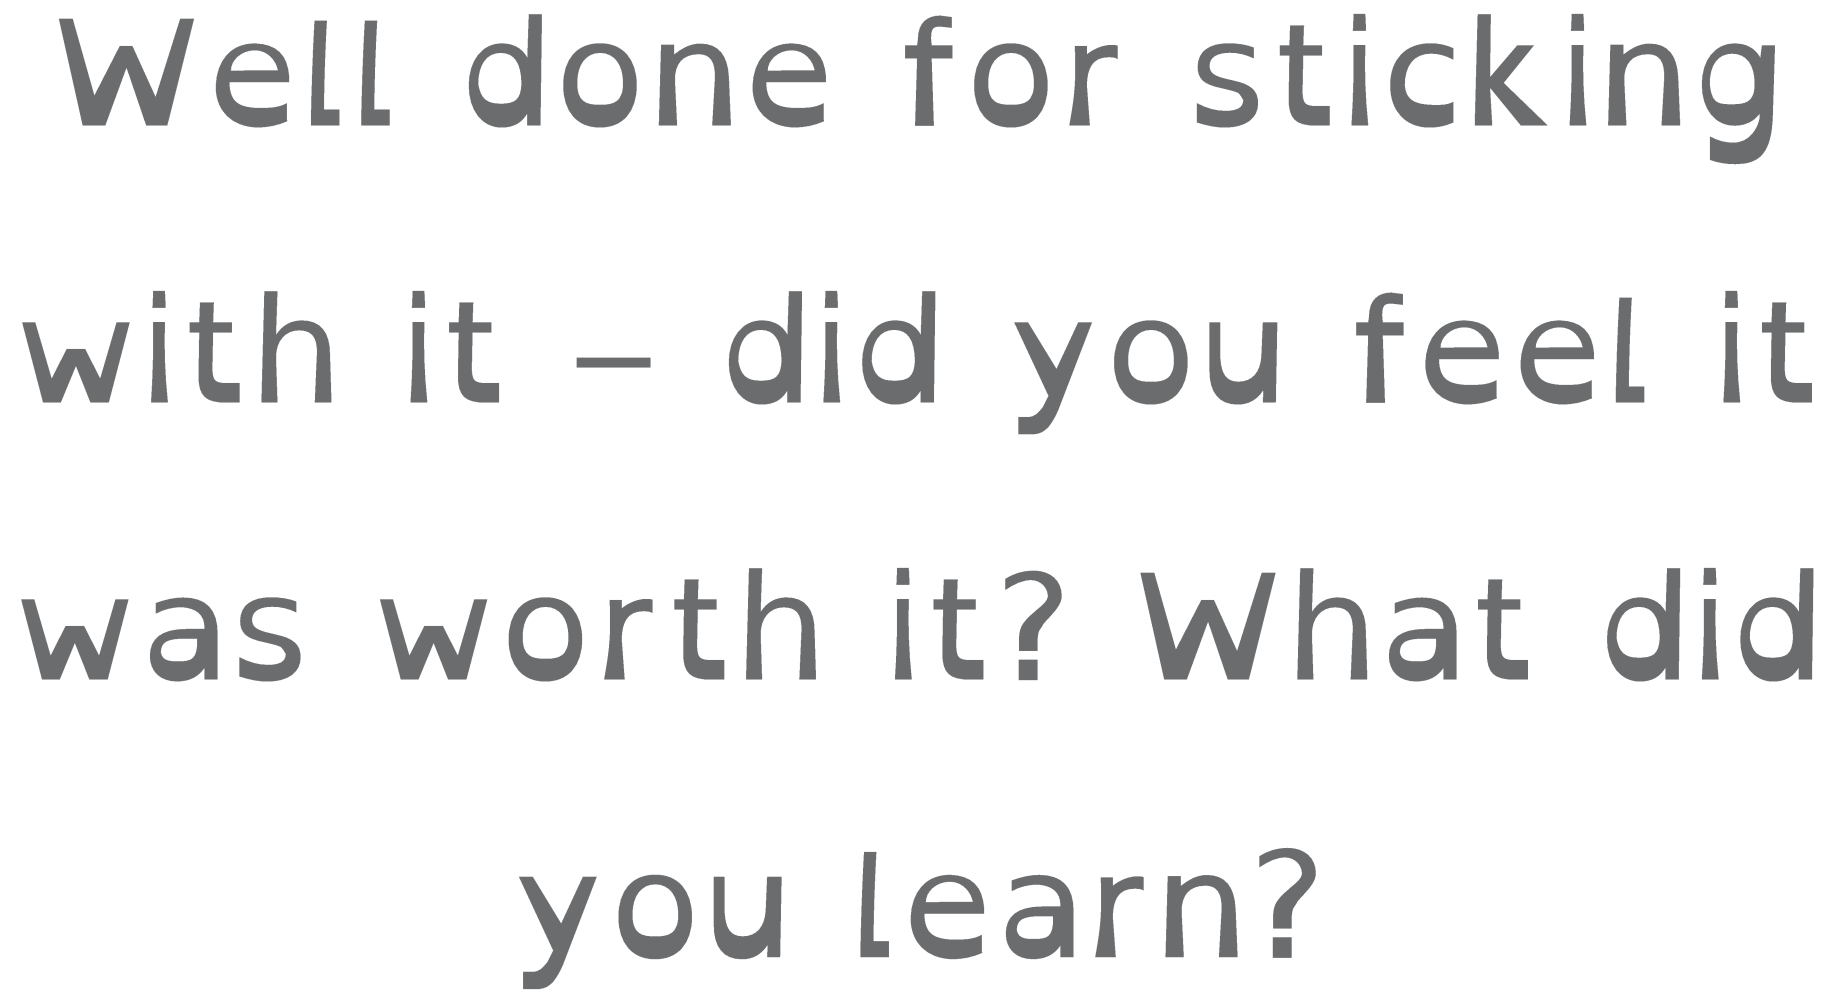

Why don't you try
reading it again to your brother or sister (or even a pet!) and see if they like it?

It's fine to skip pages!

You can even have a peek at the end of the book if you want!

I wonder if we can
find another book
together you might
like?

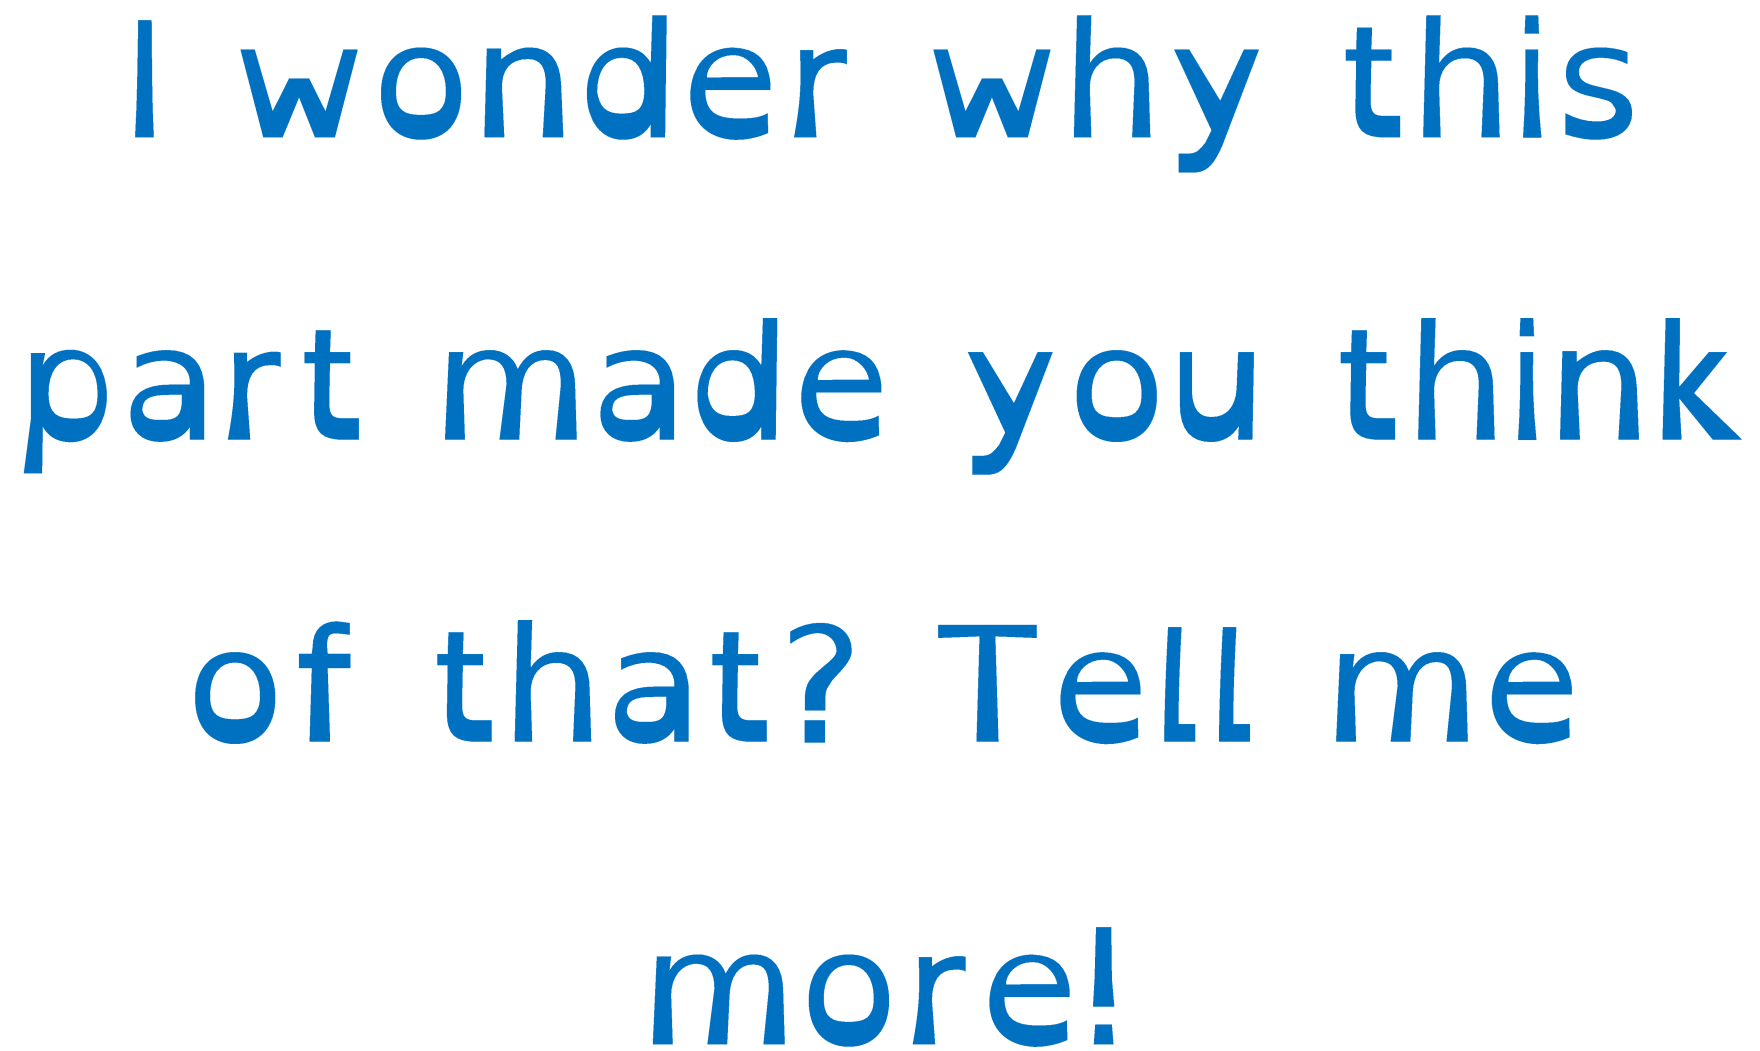

Well done for sticking
with it – did you feel it was worth it? What did you learn?

It's OK not to understand every single word! Just let the words wash over you.

Ooohhh! You know how this part of the story made us laugh? Why was it so funny? Perhaps we could include something like that in OUR writing? Here, I'll show you how!

I wonder why this part made you think of that? Tell me
more!

It's fine to put it to one side – I often
come back to books
when I have more time!

I like reading on the sofa, wrapped in a blanket. What about you?

Would you
recommend what you're reading to anyone? Who?

You'll never guess
what I'm reading
right now?

Well, if it is too hard to read, we can always read it together or find another one? Or, you could read along with an audio book?

Instead of 'Show and Tell' at the end of the week, we're going to have a 'Book Show and Tell'! You can come up and read us a part of whatever you're reading – it can be ANYTHING – and tell us why you're enjoying it OR why you're not enjoying it!

Did any of the characters remind you of other characters you know? One of them reminded me a bit of...

There's another book
like the one you've just read. Shall I go
and get it?

You like drawing, don't you?
Why don't you try and copy an illustration from the book or you could illustrate your favourite part of the story?

Shall we see what we can find out
about the illustrator?

I'm struggling to find
something to read,
actually! Can YOU
recommend ME something
to read?

Just sit back, relax
and enjoy. I'm going to read to you...

You'll never guess
what I'm reading
right now?

Tell me what you're reading now? What's it about? What made you pick it up? Can you tell me about your favourite illustration?
